Course Description:

Over the course of 4 sessions, participants will be guided in an arts-based exploration of learning and unlearning, while staying grounded in an awareness of the complexity of trauma and colonization that affects everyone, most significantly Indigenous people.

We will explore aspects of therapeutic practice including; ethical practice, practicing from a trauma-informed lens and self-care.

Invited guest speakers will join and share Indigenous perspective and knowledge.

This course may be cancelled or postponed to a later date due to low participation or unforeseen circumstances. Participants will be notified of time changes or cancellations before the first class.
